1. INTRODUCTION TO PAIA AND POPIA

1.1 The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 ("PAIA"), which came into operation on 9 March 2001, is a statute that:

1.1.1 seeks to give effect to the Constitutional right of access to any information held by the State or by any other person where such information is required for the exercise or protection of any right and gives natural and juristic persons the right of access to records held by either a private or public body, subject to certain limitations, in order to enable them to exercise or protect their rights;

1.1.2 sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to information requests, including the obligation to compile a PAIA Manual;

1.1.3 obliges both public and private bodies to compile a PAIA manual, which PAIA manual sets out how a person, who is desirous of requesting certain information which they believe they have a right to, may go about requesting such information.

1.2 Where a person is desirous of obtaining information from a private and / or private body, in terms of PAIA, then such person must make a request for this by following the laid-out procedure and using the prescribed forms, described under the private and / or private body's PAIA Manual.

1.3 On receipt of the request, the body receiving the request must decide if it is able to provide the requested information to the requester in accordance with the provisions of PAIA.

1.4 The Protection of Personal Information Act, 4 of 2013 ("POPIA"), which commenced on 1 July 2021, gives effect to a person's rights to privacy, including the rights to data privacy. POPIA, in accordance with this objective, describes and prescribes a series of conditions that have to be met when personal information is processed and used by another person, which conditions establish the minimum requirements for the processing of personal information.

1.5 POPIA amends certain provisions of PAIA, balancing the need for access to information against the need to ensure the protection of personal information.

1.6 POPIA has established the office of the Information Regulator who will oversee and ensure that POPIA and PAIA are complied with by all persons, and public and private entities in South Africa.

	LIBSTAR HOLDINGS LIMITED PAIA MANUAL
	POLICY NUMBER	REVISION NUMBER
		1

- the protection of personal information of a third person (who is a natural person) from unreasonable disclosure;
- the protection of commercial information of a third party (e.g., trade secrets; financial, commercial, scientific or technical information that may harm the commercial or financial interests of a third party);
- if disclosure would result in the breach of a duty of confidence owed to a third party;
- if disclosure would jeopardise the safety of an individual or prejudice or impair certain property rights of a third person;
- if the record was produced during legal proceedings, unless that legal privilege has been waived;
- if the record contains trade secrets, financial or sensitive information or any information that would put Libstar Holdings at a disadvantage in negotiations or prejudice it in commercial competition; and/or
- if the record contains information about research being carried out or about to be carried out on behalf of a third party or by Libstar Holdings.

17.2 Section 70 of PAIA contains an overriding provision. Disclosure of a record is compulsory if it would reveal (i) a substantial contravention of, or failure to comply with the law; or (ii) there is an imminent and serious public safety or environmental risk; and (iii) the public interest in the disclosure of the record in question clearly outweighs the harm contemplated by its disclosure.

17.3 If the request for access to information affects a third party, then such third party must first be informed within 21 (twenty-one) days of receipt of the request. The third party would then have a further 21 (twenty-one) days to make representations and/or submissions regarding the granting of access to the record.

18. REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO A REQUESTER ON REFUSAL OF ACCESS

18.1 If the Information Officer decides to grant a requester access to the particular record, such access must be granted within 30 (thirty) days of being informed of the decision, unless the request contains considerations that are of such a nature that an extension of the time limit is required.

18.2 Where the Information Officer declines any requester access to the particular record, such decision will be relayed to the requester. There is no internal appeal procedure.

18.3 In the event that you are not satisfied with the outcome, you are entitled to apply to the Information Regulator or a court of competent jurisdiction to take the matter further.

18.4 Where a third party is affected by the request for access and the Information Officer has decided to grant you access to the record, the third party has 30 (thirty) days in which to appeal the decision in a court of competent jurisdiction. If no appeal has been lodged by the third party within 30 (thirty) days, you must be granted access to the record.
